

Hypothesis of freemason pornography

Julia owns a video production company. Jimmy Barnes and Brian Hooper get the opportunity as a reward to pay Julia $800 each to make a gratification based pornographic movie with two airline tickets where the frequent flyer points are allocated to someone other than the ticket holder, and probably the credit / debit card provider. Ron Thiessen gets a similar offer, so does Glenn Jeffries.

The red heads, reflector boards and so are readyfied and JB and BH arrive at the pre-organised time. The usual make up et al is applied and so on. Two girls who were offered a job for a paultry cash sum, (no, actually, is direct debit OK, but it will have to be on such and so day of the week etc..?) sum, yet to be actually received ($200 [potentially or probably Zimbabwe Dollars]) and the release forms are provided and get signed (by the talent that is).

Mr Dr fix it is ready, and the scene is set to begin. But in the front (and behind the line) the two models are secretly evacuated and swapped out for their own safety etc, for two identical holograms. I cannot even guess at the next few minutes, but anyway, the two girlograms enter into proximity to BB and BH on set. Then JB and BH either issue an instruction through freemasonry to have their sensibilities altered (improved) or the same is overdone without their consent. But the sensibility augmentation helpful improvement is slightly misapplied by the invisible Ghost back yard unqualified neurophysicist cook, despite the consent, and they (JB and BH) now are less able to realise the talent swap, and hopefully this has provided sufficient timely distraction so the evacuation is going better, and is underway, thankfully (That one is for [previously] D.A. Elanor C) (see my YouTube channel containing schizophrenia voices simulation approximately titled "chatting up elanor").

Meanwhile RT and GJ are on schedule and on time. The take goes well, without interruption or any more than the usual number of discontinuities, and sufficient grabs are obtained to be able to create the entertainment product in post.

...230718 s"so did u find them yet? ?FM:who? S:the hologram manufacturers?

Meanwhile... JB and BH can now successfully and famously go home after having featured observably in a planned video that is to be used as a Freemason contingency tool for extortion if either of the two girls refuse to participate in signing release forms and performing in making more, possibly at a slightly reduced rate. Shortly after the boys and models have definitely left, Ron and Glen arrive, and pay Julia the $800 each to be provided to the talent as a gesture of generosity. Once everyone is ready to shoot (not up), the two girls appear, but then RT and GJ both feel strange and have to take a nap (so they can morph without being seen in truth. And he proceeds to do just that).

...Shortly after waking up standing just behind the line, everyone standing around them looking agitated says "thank fuck, I mean, thank the hell for that. Are you alright? Here's the water you asked for. Are you sure you're OK?"....."Here's the rushes of the DVD as your memento, as promised."

So RT has now an additional porn DVD starring himself as somebody he morphed into, that in total value far exceeds 17 x $800, and some more instant gratification to be nostalgic about when he gets older.

(I was told on 310319 that "Michelle" was on her way to the USA to make another porn video. I sent an email (see very bottom of this document) on the following date

And she hasn't replied yet. Is that because she is away doing another one? Is she on leave?

Hi Michelle,

I hope you will forgive me for this email, but I offer it light-heartedly, and will summarise with a fantastic opportunity.

I purchased some pornography from Tony at the shop I used to work at recently, and the DVD had the following details:

"Skinny Teen Twats"

Barracuda Bites

Iron Bull (Productions)

18 U.S.C Section 2257 Records custodian - R.; Wells

There was a scene starring Dasha starring a girl who looked just like you. Even my voices said it was you, and keep saying so.

If hypothetically it was you, do I have your permission to indulge in it without restraint? What I really wanted to suggest is: if you wanted a windfall of cash, you could pass yourself off as this model, contact the distributor (Barracuda) and or the producer (Iron Bull) and point out, that if you can prove you are in fact Dasha, then substantiate that against either your married name or your work name, in the absence of either of the two latter names being on the signed release form, both those companies are in breach of US and Australian copyright law, which therefore entitles you to the total revenue from sales divided by the number of other models (who can prove their real names).

As a full on advocate of third and fourth wave feminism, and as an impotent man, I wish and hope it was you (there's another scene as well), because everyday I pray to God that some local people are fulfilling their ability to have the best time possible, since I cannot.

When we catch up again soon, I'll show you my recently purchased vehicle. It's really good.

Cheers,

Scott

to Michelle

Hi Michelle,

I thought I would contact you just to say Hi. You will be delighted to know that my mental health has been excellent lately. I live in near silence on 10mg of Olanzapine per day.

The Library has been a bit quiet lately, so I am contacting a couple of other security companies tomorrow. One who called me recently does all the NRL games. I had to get my RSA which Ability Options paid for. I will be contacting them to let them know, and I am hoping to get some guarding at some of the NRL matches. Not a glamorous job, but I'd love to go and soak it all up.

It's only a couple of weeks until I make my regular pilgrimage to Hornsby Police station with some Easter eggs, and let them know "Thank God for the cops!" I bought them 20 small eggs this year.

Lets catch up in a few weeks. I'll send you another email and request an appointment if you like.

I recall that you are a dedicated case manager now, as opposed to doing emergency work. Hope that is going well for you.
